Game from the 27th Annual Kings Island Open Tournament, Blue Ash, OH:

Round: 1

Submitted by Joe with his comments and selected Fritz comments [shown thusly].

White: Joseph Mucerino (2121)

Black: GM Bryan Smith (2528)

Date: 11/9/2018

[A48: 1 d4 Nf6 2 Nf3 g6: Torre, London and Colle Systems] 1.d4 Nf6 2.Nf3 g6 3.Bg5 Bg7 4.Nbd2 0-0 5.e4 d5 [D]

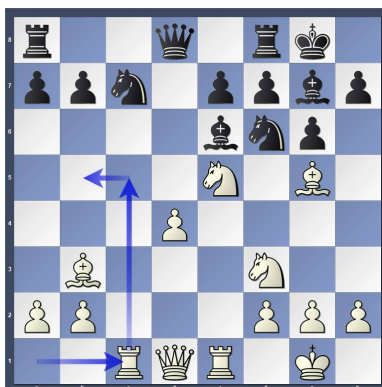

6.exd5 (Joe: If 6.e5 then 6...Ne4 is fine for Black.) 6...Nxd5 7.c3 Nd7 8.Bc4 N5b6 9.Bb3 c5 10.0-0 [Threatening Re1.] 10...cxd4 11.cxd4 [D]

(Joe: Too automatic. The computer prefers 11.Re1, threatening 12.Bxe7.)

11...Nf6 12.Re1 Nbd5 13.Nc4 Nc7 14.Nce5 Be6 15.Rc1 [D] (Next col.) (Text cont. next col.)

(Position after 15.Rc1 (From prev. col.)

(Cont. from prev. col.) [White has good play.] 15...Bd5 16.Bxd5 Ncxd5 17.Qd2 Qb6 18.Rc5 Rad8 19.b3 e6 [D]

(Joe: This move deprives black's queen of a flight square.) [19...Qd6] 20.Nc4± Qb4 [D]

(Joe: Stockfish 7 likes 20...Qa6 better.)

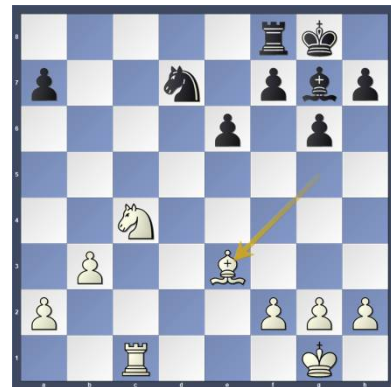

21.Qxb4 (Joe: This throws away much of white's advantage. I thought I had a good chance of winning both of Black's queenside pawns, but it was not to be. The best move is 21.Qc1.) [21.Qc1± b6 22.Bd2] 21...Nxb4 22.Rb5! Nc2 23.Rc1 Nxd4 24.Nxd4 Rxd4 25.Rxb7 Rd7! [D] (Next col.) (Joe: Here, Smith offered a draw. I assume that he was afraid that I could win his a-pawn and get connected passed pawns. This was the first time we played since I (Text cont. next col.)

(Position after 25...Rd7! (From prev. col.)

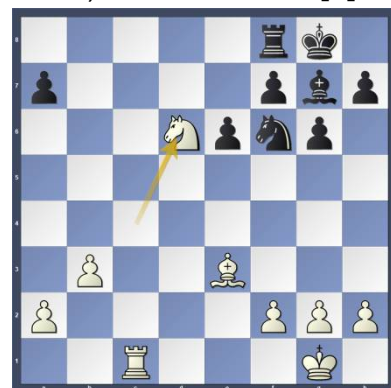

(Cont. from prev. col.) beat him in the MasterMinds Open (he offered me a draw in that game too). Accepting a draw won't win me the game, so I played on. Actually, White only has a slight advantage here.)

26.Rxd7 Nxd7 27.Be3 [D]

(Joe: Not the computer's first choice. I decided to grab the diagonal before black could play ...Bd4. The computer prefers 27.Na5 followed by 27.Rc7.) 27...Nf6 28.Nd6 [D]

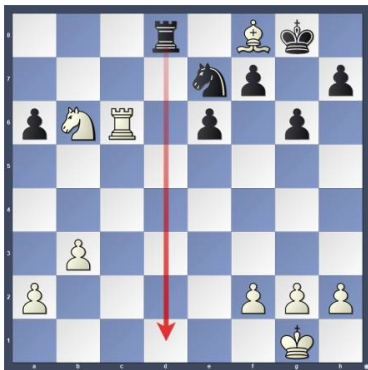

(Joe: Not 28.Bxa7 because White is not making progress after 28...Ra8 and 29...Rxa2. Stockfish prefers 28.Na5, with the idea of blocking the pawn.) 28...a6 29.Rc6 Ra8 30.Nc8 [D] (p.6) (Joe: My idea was to play Na7 to block the rook's defense of the pawn. After 30.Rc8+ Rxc8 31.Nxc8, (Text cont. p.6)

(Position after 30.Nc8 (From p.5)

34.Rc1 Kxf8= [D]

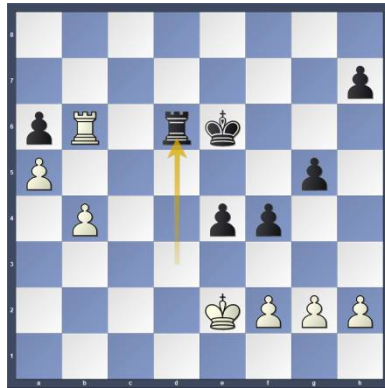

[Endgame KRN-KRN] (Joe: Obviously white has lost what little advantage he had. We played on but neither one of us obtained any advantage.) 35.Nc4 Rd3 36.Kf1 Nd5 37.Ke1 Nb4 38.Nb2 Rd4 [38...Rd8 looks sharper. 39.a3 Nd5 40.Na4 Nf4 41.Rc4 e5] 39.a3 Nd3+ 40.Nxd3 Rxd3 [D]

Game from the NPCC 2018 November Quads

Tournament:

Round: 3

Submitted by Terance with his comments (as edited) and selected Fritz/Stockfish* comments [shown thusly].

White: Alex MacFarlane (1785)

Black: Terance Hall (1858)

Date: 11/30/2018

* (Please copy and paste the HTML link at the end of this article into your browser to read the complete Stockfish comments.) (Text cont. next col.)

(Terance: Knowing that Alex likes to play c4 (English) on his second move I played d4 this time as last time I played Nc6 trying to go into the four Knights variation, but Alex plays d5 and does not allow e5, that is why he plays Nf3 first.) 2.c4 e6 (Terance: d4 is also playable, but I wanted to go into familiar lines with White playing d4.) 3.g3 Nf6 4.Bg2 Bd6 [D]

(Terance: I played this to control the e5 square also knowing that White might try d4 and then c5 to attack it. I planned on c6 and putting the Queen on c7 and run the h-pawn down to open White's Kingside.) 5.d4 0-0 6.c5?! [D]

(Terance: Seems like a logical move as it removes the Bishop from the f4-b8 diagonal, gains more space, and White can play Bf4 controlling the e5 square. Why did I mark it as a dubious move? Well for one thing, it is not a (Text cont. p. 7)

(Cont. from p.6) developing move helping White's King to safety. That is important in the opening. The Bishop will move to e7 and can aid in the h-pawn going down to h4; also, if White plays Bf4 Black has Nh5. Black has the thematic b6 move which forces White to make some pawn exchanges on the Queenside weakening his center. With no pressure on d5, White's g2 Bishop has no prospect of breaking up d5, except e4 which will weaken his light squares. Black has the advantage now.) 6...Be7 7.0-0 c6 [D]

(Terance: Better was b6 keeping my advantage. My plan here was to push e5 or h5 somehow, but I first needed to protect d5. I need to develop my Bishop on c8 and my Knight on b8. [*Stockfish: 7...b6 8.Be3 bxc5 9.dxc5 Ng4 10.Bd4 f6 11.h3 Nh6, etc...]) 8.b4 (Terance: I thought this should be prepared first with a3 in light of my next move. [*Stockfish: 8.a3 a5 9.Bf4 b6 10.b4 axb4 11.Bxb8 bxc5 12.Bf4 c4, etc...]) 8...a5 [D]

(Terance: Since I was getting into time trouble a few times lately, due to not being confident in my decisions, I have decided to go with my intuition in my play. Because of what I felt, I played with some quick calculation in almost all my moves in this game. You will notice that my play is somewhat forcing at times. 9.bxa5 Rxa5 (Terance: Qxa5 was playable also. Now the a2 pawn can be a target in the endgame, if need be, with this file open.

[*Stockfish: 9...Qxa5 10.Qc2 b6 11.Bd2 Qa6 12.cxb6 Nbd7, etc...]
10.Bd2 [D]

(Terance: Bf4 or a4 is better. I anticipated this move might be played. I knew that the Bishop now blocks the Queen which leaves the d4 pawn less protected. I can play Ne4 attacking the Bishop after I move the Rook to safety. In summation, White's Bishop on d2 is misplaced positionally (you will soon see why this is the case). I saw all of this when I played a5. [*Stockfish: 10.Bf4 Nbd7 11.Qc2 Ne4 12.Nbd2 g5, etc...]) 10...Ra8 11.Nc3 Ne4 [D]

(Terance: A move I played instinctively as it poses some problems for White taking advantage of the misplaced Bishop. White will have a headache if he captures the Knight with Nxe4 because the d4 pawn will hang. Where do you put your f3 Knight? Placing the Bishop on e1 looks positionally ugly which I thought might be played. Therefore, the best choice is to play something like a4 and let Black take the good Bishop. [*Stockfish: 11...Nfd7 12.Na4 Bf6 13.Bc3 b5 14.cxb6 Nxb6 15.Nb2 N8d7, etc...]) 12.Qc2 Nxd2 (Terance: Yes, my good Knight has done his job and taking out White's active bishop. Now I can try my plan of e5 or h5. 13.Nxd2 [Black has the pair of bishops] (Text cont. next col.)

(Cont. from prev. col.) (Terance: From this move I decided on which plan I will take. If I play h5 White can play h4, but e4 is possible now and will possibly undermine the c5 pawn. 13...Bf6 [D]

(Terance: Playing a forcing move, but e5 was even more forcing. [*Stockfish: 13...e5 14.dxe5 Qc7 15.e4 d4 16.Ne2 d3 17.Qxd3 Nd7, etc...]) 14.e3 (Terance: Now White's light squares are a little weak. I have to get my light squared Bishop out to take advantage of this; thus, my next move came into mind. [*Stockfish: 14.Nf3 Nd7 15.e4 b6 16.cxb6 Nxb6 17.a4 Nc4 18.Rfc1 Ba6, etc...]) 14...e5! [D]

[The thematic attack] (Terance: Black takes a strong initiative. 15.Nb3 exd4 (Terance: Another forcing move (g6 was also possible). 16.Nxd4 (Terance: Now the c5 pawn is isolated, creating a potential target. [16.exd4 Na6] 16...Nd7 [D]

(Text cont p.8)

(Cont. from p.7) (Terance: Here is where I thought a little, as my choices were h5, Re8, Qe7, Qa5, Na6, and Nd7, the move I chose. I played Nd7, as it was a developing move threatening c5. It was a forcing move. It also gave me the flexibility of where to put my Queen on the next move, Qe7, or Qa5. [*Stockfish: 16...Qe7 17.Rac1 Rd8 18.Na4 Nd7 19.Rb1 h5, etc...] 17.Rfd1? [D]

(Terance: Good move! which shows Alex's positional understanding. I missed this move. I expected the less precise Rac1 to try to protect c5. Rfd1 inadvertently protects c5 by protecting d5 and x-raying the Queen on d8. [If 17.Rac1?! Nxc5 18.Nxd5 Bxd4!, etc...] 17...Qa5 (Terance: Moving the Queen out of danger, attacking the Knight on c3 and the c5 pawn twice. I also have the pin on the d4 Knight. 18.e4? [D]

(Terance: This move would be good if Black takes the bait, but loses to the correct Black reply. [18.Rdc1!?! *Stockfish: 18.Rac1 h6 19.Nb3 Qb4 20.Qd2 Kh8 21.e4 Bxc3, etc...] 18...Qxc5+ [D]

(Terance: With this move White loses too much. Stockfish reads a 7-pawn advantage for Black. White resigns!) 0-1
